Journal Acquires Star Subscribers; Editor Joins Journal Staff

Arrangements completed this week between Chester R. Bunker, Joshua Journal publisher, and Homer A. and Ruth L. Stuart, publishers of the now defunct Yucca Valley Star, added approximately 250 new readers to the growing list of Journal subscribers. The Journal will be sent to all paid-up Star subscribers for the balance of their subscription term. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart announced suspension of publication of the Yucca Valley Star with last week's issue. Mrs. Stuart has been ordered by her physician to "slow down." Homer Stuart has joined the staff of the Joshua Journal as representative in the Yucca Valley area.

Homer Stuart has more than a nodding acquaintance with printer's ink and type, having been a newspaperman and publisher for the past thirty years. He and Ruth formerly published the Desert Hot Springs Sentinel. For the past few years they have published the Desert Spotlight magazine. At their Hidden Rancho they will conduct a job printing business as the Star Press.

The Joshua Journal is now in its fourth year of publication. It is sent to all parts of the United States and Alaska and is read by nearly 1500 families. It is the news and advertising medium of this fertile desert region which is enjoying a steady growth as a place for healthful and profitable living. The Journal publisher and his staff have pioneered in bringing before its readers the advantages of this area as a turkey and poultry raising country. This industry is now attracting many people from all walks of life and from many parts of the nation.

The Journal will continue to chronicle the events of interest for its expanded group of readers. It welcomes to the Journal family the more than two hundred former Star subscribers.

Building And Business In Upsurge Here

January bowed itself out with a final flourish of bright sunny weather and a small boom in general business and the building industry in the Joshua Tree area. The warm weekend weather brought many visitors to the area and caused builders to make preparations for new construction long delayed by snow and cold. Jack Crane and Ed Baldwin will soon announce a new enterprise to open in the Shearn Building. Alterations and installation of fixtures started last week. A surveying crew was on the ground at the northeast corner of Park Boulevard and the Hiway with plans to erect a filling station, it was reported. The former Journal office, a prefab building has been purchased by Lester V. Peterman and will be moved to Sun Valley.

At the Whitehorn Ranch Meredith Willey, ranch manager, will start erection of homes for Mrs. Frances Sims and Miss Cora Sims of Monrovia this week. Ground will be cleared early this week for a home for Mrs. Nellie Morin of Duarte. Lafferty Bros. cleared the building sites for all three homes. Each of the residences is on a 1¼ acre which will be enclosed by post and rail fences, Willey announced. A water tank has been installed on the high ground in the south

Hatch Opens Branch Office

Bill Hatch, pioneer surveyor and insurance man of 29 Palms, this week announces the opening of a branch office in the Vance Building in Yucca Valley. "Through the facilities of this office," he states, "we will be able to give better and quicker service to the residents of Joshua Tree, Yucca Valley and adjacent areas." This new service will be inaugurated on Thursday of this week. A schedule of days when Hatch or Layton Haese of the Hatch organization will be in the new branch will be published later. Office space will be shared with Captain Ray Keck, public accountant.

Bill Hatch has been a resident of the desert since 1932. Many of the subdivisions from Morongo Valley to 29 Palms have been surveyed by him. Hatch has been active in civic work and at present is District committee man for Zone 6 of the County Flood Control organization which is currently studying Coyote Hole drainage.

part of the tract and water lines are in.

Dr. J. Alan Whitman announces in this issue that he will have office hours at Desert Air Lodge daily. He will also give home treatment when desired, he states.

Herb Longshaw at the Desert Trading Post Market is bringing in his supplies in a new Stude-

The back-to-normal sunny weather and the expected arrival of the first shipment of turkey poultts was responsible in part for a great flurry of activity on the ranches at Rancho Sun Valley last weekend and continuing thru this week. The welcome sound of hammers and saws and the growl of cement mixers made tuneful music for the half dozen

Women Reach Halfway Mark in Kitchen Drive

More than half of the $1500 has been subscribed to the kitchen fund of the Joshua Tree Womens Club, it was announced at a potluck luncheon for members held in the Community Hall last Wednesday afternoon. Subscriptions are in the form of $10 notes payable in five years and bearing 5% interest. Twenty-five members enjoyed the amazing and tempting array of foods prepared for the occasion.

Following the luncheon the ladies enjoyed a songfest led by Mrs. Harry Wheeler with Mrs. Herb Longshaw furnishing the piano accompaniment. President Mrs. Frank Cook, after calling the business meeting to order, relinquished the chair to Mrs. Henrietta Pepper, chairman of the Womens Club building committee. Mrs. Pepper told of the progress of the drive and explained that a preferred list of buyers had been offered a maximum of five notes each after which one or more notes had been sold to residents of the desert area. She announced that building of the kitchen addition to the Community Hall was expected to start about the 1st of March. After the new addition is completed, she said, the Womens Club plans to give a dinner each month at each of which two or more notes will be redeemed with a full year's interest.

Sales chairman Margret Bair gave a sales pep talk and assigned prospects to each of the members present. She asked for and received many suggestions for additional sales promotions.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Pepper appeared at the Sun Valley Club meeting which was held at the Robert Tootle ranch. A number of the notes were purchased by those in attendance baker truck since last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. King are redecorating the Dr. Stewart home on Grand View and will move here from Westwood about March 11th. They plan to raise turkeys at Sun Valley.

Two new building projects are scheduled to start about the end of February. They are the Joshua Tree Chapel and the kitchen addition to the Community Hall which is a civic venture of the Womens Club.

or more turkey growers as they prepared for the coming season's gobble crop.

At the Monteith ranch the owner and his son spent the weekend laying out the foundation lines and feeding yards. Ernie Harmon and Thomas Frye dug ditches for water lines and surveyed locations for brooder houses. Finishing touches to the elaborate brooder house were in order at the Briggs ranch.

The simplified methods practiced by Alan Stepp in the erection of his aluminum covered frame brooder house were viewed with interest by other growers. At the Weygold ranch a feed storage and utility house is completed and the brooder house is well under way.

Lester V. Peterman, head of the Sun Valley water company, and Gus Ojala, Joshua Tree welder, were staying one jump ahead of the calls for extended water service to new ranches. About ten more days of line work by the crews should complete the installation necessary to furnish electric power to Rancho Sun Valley. The California Electric Power Company was held up for two weeks by the unexpected and unusual snowfall.

Chester Bunker and Arthur Haynes are studying plans furnished by George Bloom, contractor, for an efficient, reasonably priced brooder house that may be used as a standard for local growers. It will be, according to present plans, 20 by 50 foot building with approved interior alley and brooder pen arrangement. Possibilities of electric brooders with auxiliary oil heating emergency equipment are under consideration.

Material is on the ground for construction at the ranch owned by D. V. Smith of Palm Springs. R. J. Pellow, whose attractive ranch home and brooder house were completed last year, was in Sun Valley from Oregon to see the preparations for this year's influx of poultts. At the E. E. Brown ranch on 29 Palms Hiway near Sun Valley a new store building is under construction and plans for turkey raising are being considered, it was reported. A mile east of there at the Pontius ranch surveyors were sighting in a roadway.

Local supply houses, feed mill representatives and equipment purveyors are enjoying a rush of business from the seasonal activity. Motel and court owners as well as cafes were welcoming the weekend ranch owners and visitors after the near-isolation of the past two weeks due to the snow and ice.

The Personal Touch

The difficulties of a menagerie attendant may be imagined by James Lafferty's grandmother when she gets his letter this week. According to Master James it seems that dipping a shivering goat in warm water is not the thing to do; it kills the goat. After the Lafferty cat was run over by a truck, says James, they killed the hog and then gave away three of Queenie's puppies. No doubt life is very dull at Rancho Lafferty now.

Colonel and Mrs. Allan Reeves of Los Angeles were visitors at the L. W. Laughlins during the middle of last week.

Sara Hayden, motion picture character actress of Hollywood, was a Joshua Tree visitor last Sunday.

Occupying Miss Ellen Harper's modernistic home on Park Boulevard are Mr. and Mrs. Wright of Monterey. Mr. Wright is a geologist of note.

Mr. and Mrs. William Longshaw, formerly of Ohio, last week purchased the H. Lafferty property on Mountain View Circle and are moving in this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Pierpoint, owners of Valley Vista Village trailer park, are now residing in the green cottage at Rancho Pequito in Sunrise Terrace.

Meredith Willey, Whitehorn Ranch manager, spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Los Angeles on business.

Mrs. Nancy White spent two days last week attending to business affairs in Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shields of Santa Monica accompanied the Forrest M. Summers to Joshua Tree and Sun Valley for the weekend. This was the Shields' first visit to our desert.

Driving out from the city with Chester R. Bunker for the weekend were Arthur Haynes and Ed Bartlett of Los Angeles. Mr. Haynes and Mr. Bunker are busy with plans for their turkey ranch buildings.

R. J. Pellow came from Oregon last weekend to inspect his Sun Valley property and observe the activity of the many new turkey raisers in his neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester V. Peterman were weekenders at their Rancho Sun Valley trailer. Mr. Peterman spent most of the time superintending the laying of new water lines in the area.

Miss Lou Housley of Los Angeles spent Sunday at her Joshua Tree home on Park Boulevard.

Preparing to move into the Dr. Stewart home on Grandview soon Mr. and Mrs. Dick King of Westwood spent the weekend doing some interior decorating. They were assisted by Miss Phyllis Young and Sam Shields Jr. of Santa Monica.

Mrs. Charlotte Schley and her sons, George and David of Oxnard were weekend visitors in Joshua Tree. They are preparing to furnish their attractive residence on Park Boulevard.

Mrs. B. Johnston and daughter, Gail of Alhambra were Joshua Tree visitors last weekend. They are spending a few days camping out in the Joshua Tree National Monument.

Ernie Harmon and Thomas Frye were busy at their Sun Valley ranch over the weekend getting ready for the turkey season.

Mrs. Floy Pfaff, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Doble and son, Donald, were weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. Whitman. Mrs. Pfaff is a nurse at Dr. Driers Sanatorium at Glendale. Mr. Doble is service manager at Dodge in Hollywood. The Dobles and Mrs. Pfaff hope to make their homes on the desert.

Robert A. Gorham, Joshua Tree real estate broker, was enjoying the Sunday sunshine after being confined to his home because of a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lamberty, who established the drug store here last March, spent last Sunday visiting their friends, Mr. and Mrs.

Joshua Tree School Notes

After having seen about thirty educational films so far this school year, the students talked about how much they had learned from the films. Then they wrote about the films that meant the most to them. The following are bits taken from their writings:

The reason I get more out of movies than reading books is in books I only see it in my mind. In movies I actually see it. — Damon Wheeler.

It is easier to learn things by films because you actually see the movements of the objects, the color and the sound. — Bill Brown.

In "Play Safe at School" I learned not to run around corners and run into people, like the Wrong Donkey, or crowd in like the Pushy Pig, or squirt water in people's faces like the Foolish Fish.

— James Lafferty

In "Animals of the Zoo" I saw the keeper give the lion raw meat. The bears got cooked meat. He gave the black bear an orange for dessert. The sea lions ate fish for dinner. The keeper gave them a whole bucket of fish.

— Gary Hoover.

"Safety at Home" helped you to remember to pick up toys so no one will fall down and hurt himself. — Becky Bryant.

In the movie called "Birds of Prey", I liked the turkey vulture best. Vultures are carrion eaters. They have large black wings with grey under them. They have naked red heads. Their wing tips turn up. Vultures' young are white with black wing tips that slant down. Vulture eggs are cream color with brown spots. — Monty Norris.

A new first grade student was enrolled last week. He is A. Stannard Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Carroll, Jr. Mrs. Carroll, Stan and his younger brother are staying in Joshua Tree for a month, to help Stan get over a bronchial attack. They are from Downey.

The average daily attendance for January went down to 13. Terry and Tommy Decker have been ill and are in Los Angeles with their mother. Ramona Jones has either been away or snowbound, no one seems to know for sure which has aroused her month-long absence. With the sunny days again with us, we hope the attendance will reach a higher percentage.

Torrance Shows New Studebakers

Now on view at Mark O. Torrance display rooms in Banning are the new flight-streamed Studebakers for 1949. Dramatic new versions of the new look that Studebaker originated embody many features to delight prospective owners. There is a Commander with new power. New glamor has been given to the Champion. And the new Land Cruiser boasts a special extra-long wheelbase.

The interiors are refreshingly different with fabrics of captivating tones and richness. Drivers will like the superbly designed new instrument panels and appointments. Body finishes in a glittering array of colors are available. The smart styling of new grills and massive wrap-around bumpers give distinction to sedans, coupes and convertibles.

Come in for a look—stay to admire all the luxuries and advancements of these 1949 Studebakers, invites Mark O. Torrance. It's a Studebaker year again, he says.

Sportsmans Club Starts Dances

Forty exponents of the turkey trot, samba and other stately choreographic exercises enjoyed the first of a series of Saturday evening dances to be staged by the Sportsmans club of Joshua Tree. The event was held at Sportsmans Hall last Saturday night. Music was furnished by the Honeydrippers.

A special exhibition given by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wagner drew a big hand from the spectators.

The only casualty of the evening was the Community Hall piano. Because of its better tone and operating condition it was loaded on a truck destined for Sportsmans Hall. Enroute the piano toppled from the truck onto the pavement with disastrous results.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Guy Peterson and Mrs. Henrietta Pepper of the Womens Club.

Lowly Philosophy

By JUNE LeMERT PAXTON

THE JOSHUAS

ALWAYS THERE IS LIGHT

The light from the small kerosene lamp in my cabin sent out a low, steady beam. Without, the night was black—and cold! But the winds that had drifted the snow all day had spent their energy, and, like tired children, had settled down for the night. Trying to retrace my steps from the home of a neighbor, I was using a flashlight; even so, at times I would lose sight of the print, and my foot would sink in the two feet of snow. But always there was that beam of light from my cabin window to guide me.

Once within my cabin, the room was warm and comfortable. The gurgling sound of the faithful oil-heater was like a melody, and even the tick-tocking of the mantle clock seemed reassuring. And I did need plenty of reassurance, for the second snow of the winter lies deep in this part of the Little San Bernardino Mountains; being snowbound for weeks is no longer a novelty!

By bedtime I was ashamed of my weakness and my lack of faith! I was ashamed, for how often have I been shown that when my night seems dark, and the going slow and uncertain, there is always that LIGHT to lead me on—and out!

Seal Sale
Nears Goal

An expression of appreciation to the people of San Bernardino County for their fine support of the 1948 Christmas Seal Sale was voiced by the Executive Committee at their meeting on Thursday, January 27th.

Dr. Julius Zelman, first vice-president, presided and announced that a total of $37,890.60 had been realized to date since the opening of the seal sale on Nov. 22. There are still a number of county residents to be heard from, he added, many of whom have overlooked their seal sale letters in the holiday rush. With just a little over $2,000 still to be contributed the total of $40,000 is sure to be reached when these peoples are heard from.

"We are grateful not only for the prompt and generous response of the people but also for the unmistakable indication that they want the services of the San Bernardino County Tuberculosis & Health Association to continue," said Dr. Zelman. The Association is organized and functions for the health of the people."

We are grateful to the residents of this county for understanding the importance of its various projects. The seal sale funds will be used to promote the association's 1949 program, a program designed to fight tuberculosis in this county and eventually eradicate it here.

Christmas seals work to prevent heart disease in San Bernardino County as well as fight tuberculosis, stated Mrs. Bertha Lee, executive secretary, when she reported that this association is the local affiliate of the American Heart Association. In California there will be no separate drive for funds by the American Heart Association. Your tuberculosis association carries on this work with your Christmas seal dollars.

Along with such Americanisms as: "Hello, there!" — "What do you know?" — "See you around" — the words of our headline are in constant use by friends who meet on the Main Streets of the Nation.

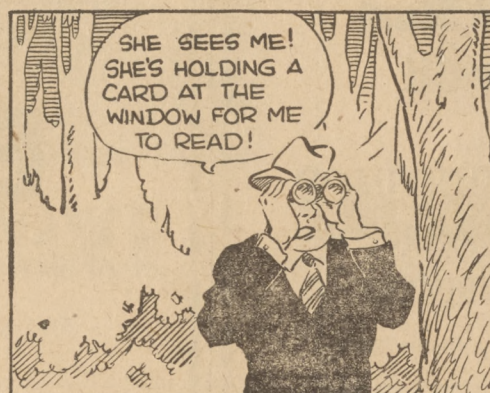

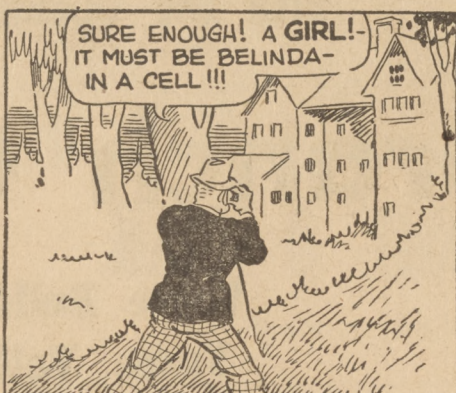

The expression, "Give me a ring sometime," voices the belief that almost everyone can be reached by telephone—an idea not extravagantly far from fact. America is the most telephonized country in the world—over 14,000,000 new telephones were added to the Nation's total during the past seven years, an increase of nearly 60%.

However, in spite of this remarkable show of progress, the Industry has yet some distance to go before every one who wants a telephone can have one and manufacturers and operating companies everywhere, including ourselves, are working hard to take care of all applicants as fast as possible.

"Folks, My Problem Is Your Problem Too"

A week or so ago the worst wind, snow and sleet storm in the history of this area had me baffled. It was during this period that I had to stop working for quite a few of you because many of the power lines that carry my service to your homes were broken by falling tree branches.

Believe me, as a fellow who thrives on work I don't like to be out of a job anywhere, no matter for how short a period, and I know you are just as anxious to have me on the job as I am to be there. That is why a post-storm analysis by my employers, California Electric Power Company, should interest you as much as it did me. This analysis shows that 90% of the power interruptions during the storm were caused by tree branches falling across power lines.

For a long time my employers have been trying to eliminate these hazardous tree conditions, but some people object to having their trees trimmed, not realizing that they may be causing future service interruptions, not only to themselves, but for lots of other people in the neighborhood as well.

My Company has qualified tree experts doing these trimming jobs. They are trained to eliminate future tree trouble in your neighborhood and to do it without hurting the appearance of your trees. I will certainly be grateful for the cooperation you give them when they call on you, and I know my employer will be grateful too.
